REPORT is a historical review that publishes the work of undergraduate students. REPORT has been a creative outlet for exemplary cadets whose work is unique in scope, skill, and ambition, encouraging the study of history as a medium through which we can better understand our time. This year we are expanding our publication to include submissions from students at various colleges and universities. We encourage all undergraduates interested in historical research to offer a submission.

REPORT is published both electronically and in booklet form during the spring and fall semesters. REPORT is peer reviewed by an undergraduate staff, with the help of faculty from the History Department. Please visit the journal homepage at www.usma.edu/history/SitePages/Report%20History%20Journal.aspx for more information.
